VOLUME CVII.--NO. 152. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Longworths in Germany.

Emperor William, when he was certain of the day on which Mr. and Mrs. Longworth would arrive at Kiel, telegraphed to Princess Eitel Frederick, asking if she could not come to Kiel at once so that Mrs. Longworth could be entertained aboard the Hamburg, the Emperor's improvised yacht. It is the Emperor's rule to never invite women on board his vessels unless the Empress or one of the imperial princesses are present.

Empress Augusta Victoria, it is understood, desires to remain near the Crown Princess, and Princess Henry of Prussia is taking a holiday in Bavaria and Princess Eitel Frederick, who also is a bride, had arranged to go on a cruise in the Hamburg with the imperial party after the regatta, but upon receiving the Emperor's telegram she went from Potsdam immediately, arriving at Kiel Saturday evening with Prince Eitel, and Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were invited to dine with the Emperor last night.

It was quite an American evening. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Longworth, Allison Howard and George Armour and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Mott was present. Princess Eitel was amiable and Emperor William jolly and complimentary to America and Americans.

After the dinner the Emperor and Princess Eitel, with their guests and the Emperor's staff, went on the quarterdock of the Hamburg to witness the illuminations. The clubhouse, the hotel and other buildings were outlined in electric lights, and the 16 battleships, 10 cruisers, 12 merchant ships, and 100 yachts in the barbor were strung with incandescent globes, while many searchlights playing about made a gorgeous scene.

Just above the room in the hotel occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were the stars and stripes in colored lights. A great assemblage from Kiel and neighboring towns crowded the waterfront to witness the illumination.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were detained by Emperor William until after 11 o'clock. The illumination ended with every warship sending up blazing rockets.

The large class yachts raced again yesterday. Emperor William took with him on board the Meteor Prince Adelbert and his three younger brothers and Commander William L. Howard, Commander Philip W. Dumas and Captain Jonquieres, naval attaches, respectively, of the United States, Great Britain and France. He served all of them at lunch with his own hands, requiring the Princess to come to him with their plates. The breeze was light, and the Emperor said it was not worth while sailing over the course, and gave up the race. The yacht Hamburg did the 19 knots under 5 hours, winning the race.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth followed the racers on Allison Armour's steam yacht Utowana. Bands on the excursion steamers played the American national anthem when passing the vessel.

The many imitations of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve that are now before the public prove it the best. Ask for DeWitt's. Good for burns, scalds, chaffed skin, eczema, tetter, cuts, bruises, boils and piles. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Attacked by a Sturgeon.

A wild panic was created yesterday afternoon among a crowd of boys who were swimming in the Allegheny river, off the coal fleet, at the Pittsburg, Pa., end of the Sixth street bridge, by the appearance among them of an immense fish, which was afterwards discovered to be a sturgeon, but which the boys at first thought was a whale. There was a mad scramble among the lads for places of safety, but the fish was in a fighting humor and refused to allow them to escape. All the boys finally succeeded in getting back on the coal barges, with the exception of William Wiedersolm, aged 10 years, of Allegheny. Just as he was about to pull himself up on the coal float the big fish sunk its teeth into the calf of the lad's right leg. The boy was rapidly being dragged down under the water again, when his screams brought Jacob Miller, the watchman of the coal fleet, to the rescue. He seized the boy's arm and then picked up a baseball bat which was lying on the boat. With the bat he beat the fish over the head, but even after life was extinct in the body of the big fish the boy's left leg was still held in its jaws. Its jaws had to be pried apart before the boy was released. The lad was taken home, where a physician was called to dress the wound. The fish measured about six feet in length and weighed 89 pounds.

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Bells, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes; "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return." Best salve in existence. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons', Druggists.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1906.

THE Springfield (Mass.) Republican, in an editorial entitled "The Blow to the Packing Industry," makes the statement that "The losses to the packing industry will amount to millions of dollars before public confidence in its decent and healthful conduct has been restored." That which has never been possessed cannot be restored. The public has always been a little suspicious about the peculiar methods employed by the beef trust, including the great packing houses, and especially since 1898, when the powers that were saw fit to hush the abominable scandal touching the unnecessary deaths of numbers of young American volunteer soldiers. "I knew that such conditions existed," said General Miles the other day when apprised of the contents of the Neill-Reynolds report. And he did know of them—knew of them eight years ago, and tried to make the entire country acquainted with the horrible story, but was promptly squelched by a trust-beholden administration. However, public suspicion was aroused, and present revelations have simply turned that suspicion into assurance. So the Republican would have been more exact had it said: "The losses to the packing industry will amount to millions of dollars before public confidence in its decent and healthful conduct is secured." This is doubtless quite true, and what the public must guard against is the danger that the beef trust, or the packers, combine will try to make the public reimburse them for this loss. Of course, it is a loss which should never have occurred, because it should never have been permitted to appear in the books as an item of any sort, much less as a profit. But that the whole miserable business has long been a source of considerable profit to the packers cannot for a moment be doubted—so long that they have come to regard the revolting conditions as quite natural, and the filthy profits so secured as legitimate and proper. It is, therefore, not to be expected that they will gracefully and uncomplainingly yield to public opinion. They may bow to the inevitable, simply because they cannot help themselves; but it may be taken for granted that they will try to "get square" in some manner. Hence it becomes the imperative duty of the protectors of public interests to be on guard against "corners" in beef on the hoof or hogs in the pen, or corn in the bin or on the ear, or anything else which may give color to a protense of necessity or excuse for raising the price of meat products.

UPTON SINCLAIR, who has recently achieved world-wide fame through the literary sensation produced by his novel of Packingtown conditions, and who wrote that book with the avowed intention of aiding the propaganda of socialism, has written an article in the Independent, in which he proposes to form a farm home colony near New York city, for the purpose of solving the servant problem, reducing household drudgery and providing ideal conditions for the growth and education of children. Mr. Sinclair distinctly disavows any intention of attempting to realize in any such arbitrary fashion the conditions contemplated under the socialistic era. Nor does he propose to reform the world by any organized extension of his group of homes. He tells with great frankness of the difficulties he and his wife have encountered in providing a suitable country home for themselves and their child, and explains how distasteful to them is the idea of hired domestic servants. If a sufficient number of people respond to justify the experiment, anywhere from twenty to 100 families, he will, himself, have estimates prepared by experts and a legal form of organization drawn up, so that a suitable tract of land may be purchased, for sale or rent to individual members, with the idea of employing all of the latest mechanical devices for the aseptic preparation of food in the common kitchen, the washing of dishes, laundering of clothing, with economies in the purchasing of supplies and provisions through a general store at wholesale prices to the individual, and various other economies.

TWO HUNDRED and forty members of the House voted Saturday for the passage of the pure food bill. This was the reply of the House itself to the declaration and insinuation of Speaker Cannon and Chairman Hepburn, of the interstate commerce committee, that the bill had been held back because they were not sure the House would support it. Seventeen democrats voted against it because they declare it interferes with the rights of the States to manage their own affairs. Against the principles and purposes of the bill there was not a dissenting voice. Those who, with the Speaker and Mr. Hepburn, had been active in the effort to smother the bill, were compelled to vote for it by the force of public sentiment in its behalf. Their only chance to prevent its passage was to prevent its consideration, and they were forced to acquiesce in the views of the majority as soon as the Speaker and Mr. Hepburn were compelled to present the measure to the House for action. There is still, however, a possibility that it may not become a law. It must be agreed to in conference, and the differences between the measure as it was voted upon by the House Saturday and that passed by the Senate are wide and radical. However, there is a strong sentiment in both houses in favor of getting the bill through the final legislative stages, and this may force the conferees to an agreement.

THREE PERSONS were drowned in the Potomac near Georgetown yesterday afternoon. The drownings occurred near the spot where Miss Wood was drowned on April 13. Four others found a watery grave in Vermont yesterday. All the drownings resulted from the capsizing of canoes. It seems that the time has come when the deadly canoe should cease to be a vehicle of pleasure to those fond of aquatic sport.

Johnson, of Cleveland, Ohio. The Allentown police force, when asked to arrest some of the ringleaders among the rioters, declined, saying bloodshed would result. This answer was made by the officers after leaders of the assemblage threatened that in case of a single arrest, the police station would be battered into ruins. Considerable rioting followed. The trouble arose out of the refusal of the company to recognize its conductors and motormen as the local division of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Workers. The sheriff, at midnight, was mustering a posse.

If the expert testimony of a physician will be taken in court as conclusive, the charge of criminal assault against D. W. Mays, brought by Miss Grace Nichols in Richmond, will not be sustained. Dr. T. B. Leonard, who was called on to make an examination of the young lady, declares that her condition makes the charge impossible. A rigid investigation is being made by the authorities of charges against Charles A. Fisher, now in Winchester jail accused of beating his wife and unpeakable illtreatment of her. The letter is to Governor Swanson and warns him against any clemency to Burton. She declares as false that he has contributed to the support of either his daughter or herself since he met Maude Leipker, the woman whom he introduced as his wife.

Bombs Found in Italy.

King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena went to Ancona Saturday night, and after laying the foundation stone of the Maggiore Hospital they returned to Rome yesterday evening. They probably owe their safety to good fortune and the vigilance of the police.

In a farmhouse in the village of Castel Ferretti, sixteen miles from Ancona, near the railway, the police discovered Saturday night a box containing three bombs that were identical with those lately found in Ancona. The discovery was made just in time to prevent, as believed, an attempt to wreck the royal train. The side-tracking of the train for five hours Saturday night at Nocara was connected with the discovery.

The plot was discovered through a mysterious letter found in possession of an anarchist who was recently arrested. The precautions for sentineling the railway were consequently increased.

It is stated that several arrests have been made in consequence of the discovery, including the anarchist, Landi, who lives at Castel Ferretti.

Today's Telegraphic News

Rioting in Allentown.

Allentown, Pa., June 25.—The quiet that prevails today is a striking contrast with the turbulent scenes that marked the inauguration of the strike on the Lehigh Valley transit company's system last night. The rioting kept up until an early hour this morning when a large crowd of strikers with their sympathizers gathered in front of the company's car barn and threatened to cause trouble at daylight. However, the rioters dispersed. During the riot at Sixth and Hamilton streets last night, two cars were almost totally demolished and about twenty others were crippled. A number of conductors were waylaid in the rural districts stripped of their clothing and robbed of their money. President Trexler this morning communicated with Governor Pennypacker who ordered Troop 6 of the State constabulary stationed at Reading, to this city. The troopers will arrive this evening. The official of the company say they have plenty of men to man their cars but will take no chances of having the men murdered and the company's property crippled unless they are afforded proper protection, which the local authorities are not able to give. Consequently only a few cars are being run today, but General Manager Hall says that tomorrow morning an effort will be made to resume the usual schedule. Several of the strikers have been arrested as a result of last nights rioting.

Sentenced to Fine and Imprisonment.

Toledo, O., June 25.—J. A. Miller, R. C. Lemmer, R. A. Beard, P. H. Watters, H. S. Breining, ice combine men, were sentenced to pay $5,000 fine each and serve one year in the penitentiary today. Judge Kincaid announced that if the members of the ice trust would lower the price of ice below what it was before the trust raised the prices on March 12, keep the price there until the public got its money back, and then put the price just where it was before the raise was made, he would consider a request to make some modification of the sentence. Prosecutor Wachenheimer has accomplished a notable victory in his fight against the combine.

More Drowning.

Matteawan, N. J., June 25.—The finding in Raritan bay, near here, today, of the bodies of Miss Catherine Stryker and Albert Test, both of Keyport, caused much excitement among the adquaintances of the couple in this place and at their home.

It was learned that Test had taken Miss Stryker out rowing last evening, although her parents, Captain and Mrs. Stryker, had objected to his attentions to their daughter, and had forbidden him to call at the Stryker's home.

Troubles on the Isthmus.

New York, June 25.—Passengers who arrived here on the steamer Niagara, from Nassau, N. P., brought the story that the governor of the Bahamas had left Nassau for Inaugua to investigate the troubles among the negro laborers. The laborers, many of whom have been employed on the Panama canal, complain that they have not been paid by the American authorities. It is believed that they have been paid, but spent their money in dissipation at the Isthmus, and give out this story to account for lack of funds.

Turkey and Persia.

Constantinople, June 25.—There is likely to be serious trouble between Turkey and Persia over the frontier question. In spite of warnings from England and Russia, Turkey has massed great numbers of troops near the frontier. Persia's remonstrances were disregarded and she later followed the same course. In the event of Turkey not withdrawing her troops Persia will probably order a general mobilization of her army.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 24 11 a. m.—It was generally remarked that the traders and outside speculators came down town this morning to sell stocks. Under the pressure from this selling, prices opened lower and made some slight further losses in the early trading. The market was hard to depress, though, and a demand appeared on the early declines that easily exhausted the supply of stock and forced an upward movement before the first hour.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, June 25.

SENATE.

The Senate today put on an extra head of steam in responding to the desire to bring about the final adjournment not later than Friday.

Mr. Spooner, from the judiciary committee, in response to a former resolution reported that the committee had unanimously decided that "Congress is without authority under the constitution to supervise marine, life, and fire insurance companies except in the District of Columbia, territories, and insular possession.

The Long resolution, calling upon the Department of Justice for a statement or all prosecutions under the anti-rebate and anti-trust laws, was agreed to without objection. It also called for a statement of disbursments of the half million dollars fund for the prosecution of offenses under the anti-trust laws.

In the Senate this afternoon Mr. La-Follette denounced in scathing terms, the elevator and grain buying of the country. He said that the whole field of railway control seemed to be permeated with corruption and unlawful discrimination. He charged that the elevator companies were given special privileges and claimed that the farmer was deprived of an open market.

The Senate adopted a resolution offered by Mr. La Follette directing the Interstate Commerce Commission "to make a thorough investigation of the elevator and grain buying and forwarding business of the country to determine to what extent special favors have been granted."

HOUSE.

When the House met today, it agreed upon a night session for this evening, when general debate will be in order and the long delayed "watch trust speech" of Mr. Rainey, and the "standpat" tariff speech of Mr. McCleary wil be delivered.

The general deficiency bill, the last of the great supply bills, was reported to the House, today. It carries $10,245,509, of which $3,944,357 is for the treasury department.

The House today took up the immigration bill under a stringent aule limiting the debate. An hour's discussion and the right to amend is granted on the provision increasing the head tax from two to five dollars and two hours and the rights to amend on the illiteracy provision. There will be no record vote on either.

The House today disagreed to the Senate amendments to the Lake Erie and Ohio River Ship Canal Company measure, and sent the bill to conference.

Eleven Persons Drowned.

After battling for their lives in the rapids above Chain Bridge in the Potomac for nearly an hour late yesterday afternoon, Robert Purcell, a pitcher in the Central High School team, of 415 Florida avenue, Washington was drowned, and Richard Dear, the crack sprinter of the University of Pennsylvania, his companion, was rescued. Dear was battered and bruised from head to foot as the result of his struggle. He was taken from a rock near Sycamore island. The young men went out in a boat yesterday afternoon to capsize it and make an experiment. They left their clothes on a rock near High island, upset the boat, and were practicing as rescuers, when they found themselves in the grasp of a violent current which swept Purcell to his death.

Treacherous currents in the Potomac river, just beyond Dixie Landing near Georgetown, claimed two more victims when Edward R. Saalbach, a clerk in the War Department, and his eight months' bride were drowned through the overturning of their canoe at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Despite the fact that help was near and that heroic efforts were made to save the drowning couple, the strong undertow caught both Mr. and Mrs. Saalbach in a deathlike embrace and the waters soon closed over them. The point where the fatal accident occurred was at the great rock that projects into the stream just as Dixie Landing is passed. It was there that Miss Wood, while canoeing with George R. Frye, was drowned on April 13.

Four people were drowned by the capsizing of a canoe on Lake Memphremagog, near Newport, Vt., late yesterday afternoon. Those who lost their lives were: George Dailey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paquin and Miss Ethel Paquin, sister of Mr. Paquin. The quartet ventured out in a large canoe, and paddled about simply for pleasure. Numbers of other people were in the vicinity, but no one appeared to have witnessed the accident, and it is supposed that they upset the craft while exchanging seats.

One of the vessels overturned and sunk in Raritan bay near Red Bank, N. J., on Saturday afternoon, when two squalls met in the bay and wrought havoc to small craft, was the two-masted schooner Emma Hendrix, from Perth Amboy for Red Bank, with a load of coal. She was caught off Port Monmouth and upset. Capt. Morris Brown and his son William, 12 years old, were drowned, as was Champion Scott, of Fair Haven, who was Captain Brown's helper. Another schooner sunk was the Buena Vista, Capt. Theodore Wilson, of Red Bank, who, with his helper, was drowned.

Three Murders.

Three murders have been reported to the Washington county, Pa., authorities and as yet no arrests have been made. Early yesterday morning the body of Michael Prebika, a coal-miner, was found in a tunnel of the Wabash road, in Independence township. His skull had been crushed and both legs were broken. He had been shot through the head and the body placed on the tracks to conceal the murder. When last seen alive Prebika had a large sum money and was quarrelling with a fellow-Slav, Frank Ristar, for whom a warrant has been issued. Later the body of Jos. Simpson, another coal miner, was found beneath a railroad car at Burgettstown. He had wounds on his head and chest apparently inflicted with a pick. His pockets had been rifled. The body of an unknown man which is still unidentified was found in the road near the Baltimore and Ohio tracks at Gilkeson, 10 miles from Washington. The only indication of the cause of death was a bruise on the temple. Robbery was apparently the motive for this murder also, as the pockets were turned inside out when found. The police think tramps are responsible for the latter two deaths.

There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctors gave me up to die of Consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Barnes Confirmed.

The Senate in secret session Saturday evening confirmed, by a vote of 36 to 16, the nomination of B. F. Barnes, an assistant secretary to President Roosevelt, as postmaster at Washington. Mr. Gallinger, was the only republican to vote in the negative. The Senate voted down by a vote of 35 to 17 a motion of Mr. Culberson, to recommit the nomination to the postoffice committee, with instructions to investigate the ejectment of Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House early in the year, which occurred under a misunderstanding and was attended by harsh treatment by the police. Mr. Hepburn was the only republican to vote with the democrats in favor of such an investigation. This is the case that Senator Tillman has held up to months. The entire case against Mr. Barnes was rehearsed by Senator Tillman, who led the fight on the floor. He reviewed the details of the "Morris incident," last January, when Mrs. Minor Morris was arrested for refusing to leave the White House after she had been denied admission to the President by Mr. Barnes. He said that Mr. Barnes had superintended the forceful ejection of Mrs. Morris, and had proven himself unworthy of the office of postmaster of Washington.

Senator Tillman laid the evidence in the Morris case before the Senate in a dispassionate manner. He read the statement of eyewitnesses to the affair. Then he drew from under his desk a black silk skirt wrapped in a newspaper. This was the skirt worn by Mrs. Morris when the was "dragged," as Tillman claimed, from the White House. It was torn and muddy, showing clearly the imprints of shoes. It was charged by Mr. Tillman that the lower part of the woman's body had been trampled on by the police officers and White House attendants, including a negro, who assisted in taking her to a carriage.

No effort was made by any Senator to defend the action of Secretary Barnes nor the police.

Mr. Tillman gave notice that he would repeat in the open Senate the remarks he had made behind closed doors, and would exhibit the torn clothing of Mrs. Morris that the country might be informed of the entire affair.

During his speech Mr. Tillman said it was a peculiar coincidence that the only eyewitnesses who defended the White House incident were Elmer E. Paine, a newspaper man, who received a Naval Academy appointment for his son, and the police, whose superintendent, Richard Sylvester, had received a like favor from the hands of the President.

Excursion on the Jamestown.

Sixteen hundred residents of Alexandria and Washington were the guests Saturday afternoon of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, when the initial trip of the company's new steamer Jamestown was taken down the river as far as Aquia creek and back. The trip was made under the personal supervision of President Woodbury and General Passenger Agent Callahan, accompanied by a staff of officials, who looked after the comfort of the visitors. The main deck of the Jamestown and the dining saloons were handsomely decorated with palms and ferns, while a large orchestra entertained the passengers throughout the trip. In the dining-room an elaborate luncheon was served on the way down the river. There was dancing during the evening, and all the excurcionists experienced a delightful time. The Jamestown is longer than the Norfolk and the Washington, and being without the staterooms essential to a night boat, is much more roomy. Her speed is about 18 knots an hour. During the remainder of the present summer the Jamestown will be used for river and bay excursions, both by day and by night. She will carry 3,000 people. She is beautifully fitted out, the saloon being furnished with innumerable easy rockers and lounging chairs, while for the decks there is a sufficiency of comfortable deck chairs and camp stools. All who made the trip Saturday are profuse in the praises of the new boat.

Baseball.

The game of baseball Saturday afternoon at the old fair grounds between the Fort Myer club and the team representing the Alexandria Athletic Association, ended in the fifth inning. The Fort Myer team declined to continue playing owing to a decision by the umpire, who called an Alexandria player safe at first base when, it is claimed, he was out. The batter bunted and the Fort Myer pitcher got the ball and threw it to first base. When the umpire called the runner safe the pitcher left the field and was followed by the remainer of the visiting team.

The Del Ray baseball team played a game Saturday afternoon with the Mount Vernon club of Fairfax county on the grounds of the former, which resulted in a victory for the Del Ray team, the score being 27 to 7.

The Churches.

Two of the ministers recently ordained at the Episcopal Theological Seminary officiated yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rev. J. M. B. Gill, in the morning, and Rev. R. W. Trapnell at night.

At Christ Church Rev. E. P. Dandridge, who was also ordained last week, preached in the morning.

At the Second Presbyterian Church, which is at present without a regular pastor, Rev. D. H. Scanlon, preached morning and evening.

Rev. J. W. Gray, of Baltimore, preached for Rev. J. H. S. Ewell at the Methodist Protestant Church.

The pulpits of the other churches were occupied by the resident clergymen.

Fight on a Train.

About one o'clock this morning a fight took place between some white and colored men on an electric train bound for this city, during which Harry Massey, it is alleged, struck a colored man named Richard Boyd with a whisky bottle. Officers Beach and Garvey subsequently arrested Massey. He was brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning when the evidence showed the fight took place a short distance this side of Four-mile run. Massey was therefore held for the action of the Alexandria county authorities. A citizen who witnessed the row says Massey struck Boyd with his fist and that another man threw the bottle. Warrants were issued for the arrest of four other men charged with being participants in the fight.

Features of Luna Park.

The entire amusement-seeking population for miles around Washington are greatly indebted to the management of Washington Luna Park for the opening of this immense pleasure resort on the banks of the Potomac river. Notwithstanding the fact that there are no less than six large amusement enterprises in and about Washington, it remained for the Luna Park people to furnish the exact quality and quantity of entertainment that had so long been desired and needed. Since the opening of the season on the evening of May 28th it has been estimated that no less than 700,000 people have passed through the park gates. An interesting fact in this connection is that most of these have been women and children. Next week Revella's Concert Band of sixty pieces will entertain park patrons with the latest classical and popular selections from the gigantic "musical shell," which has been such a favorite lingering place for all lovers of band music. The popular ragtime concert will be offered as usual during the engagement. During the present season special excursions are being arranged with all railroads entering Alexandria, so that every possible convenience will be established to pleasure-seekers who are desirous of seeking this magnificent resort. For all lovers of clean, wholesome, refreshing amusement, without intoxicating liquors, Washington Luna Park fills the bill.

Martha Johnson and Sophia Tolson, both colored, arrested by Officer Henderson for disorderly conduct, were fined $2.50.

Consecration of a Chapel.

Christ Episcopal Chapel at Groveton, Fairfax county, about three miles south of this city, was consecrated by Bishop Gibson yesterday morning. The clergy present beside the Bishop were Rev. R. W. Trapwell and Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis, of the Theological Seminary, the latter of whom preached the sermon. After the consecration of the chapel, setting it apart from all worldly and unhallowed uses, Bishop Gibson confirmed two persons, and administered the holy communion. The service was very impressive and was attended by a large congregation. Christ Chapel is one of the Seminary missions and is served by students under the superintendence of Rev. Dr. Wallis. The present edifice was built about two years ago chiefly through the untiring efforts of Rev. Luther S. Morton, then a student at the Seminary, upon land given by Mr. Reed of "City View." The people of the neighborhood contributed generously to the building, and the chapel, which was completely paid for before consecration, is one of the most attractive places of worship in the county.

Mr. Urban S. Lambert, Superintendent of St. Paul's Church Sunday School, with apparent success, organized yesterday afternoon a class composed of eleven Chinese youths, ranging in ages from 12 to 19 years. Mr. Lambert expresses much gratification at the interest manifested by his new scholars in their efforts to learn, and is surprised at their ready ability to receive instruction and eagerness to conform to instituted customs. Individually they have promised regular and prompt attendance on Sunday school services.

Bail for Rosie Moore.

Rosie Moore, owner of the houseboat Rosebud, who was held for the action of the United States Grand Jury by United States Commissioner Bond, in Baltimore, after a hearing last Friday, got herself out of jail Saturday afternoon, where she had spent the night, by giving a cash bail, which she supplied herself. It developed that Mrs. Moore has a deposit in a bank in this city, for she drew a certified check for the amount needed, and after the customary formalities the cash was forthcoming. Mrs. Moore left Baltimore immediately.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The temperature today has been mild.

Making It Easy and Safe.

This is the easiest store in Alexandria to get money back from in case you want it. In some Washington stores, as you doubtless know, the policy is to discourage exchanges and refunds. They all advertise money back if you want it, but you have to want it pretty badly to get it; badly enough to go through a great deal of red tape and bother. Not here. We pride ourselves on making it easy for you. We ask no questions, make no comments. It is done as a matter of your right, not as a favor.

On Sunday, June 24, 1906, at 1 p. m., HELEN MAY LATHAM, daughter of Richard J. and Hattie May Latham, aged two years, one month and 22 days.

Gone from earth, yes, gone forever,
Tear-dimmed eyes shall gaze in vain;
We shall hear her voice, Oh never,
Never more on earth again.

Home is sad, Oh God, how lonely,
Lonesome, lonesome every spot;
Listen for her footsteps, weary,
Weary, for we hear them not.

Oh dear Helen how we miss you,
Must we place you with the dead?
Oh how can we hear the cold earth fall
Down upon dear Helen's head.

How she suffered, but now rejoicing
For her reign in heaven has begun.

Weep not for me, my parents dear,
I am not dead, but sleeping here;
As I am you all shall be,
Prepare yourselves to follow me.

Funeral from the residence tomorrow evening at 3 o'clock. Friends and relatives invited to attend.

Dreyfus and Wife Estranged.

The enduring interest in the "Dreyfus affair" is again proved by the fact that the Palace of Justice, in Paris, where the Dreyfus revision proceedings are going on, is always crowded to suffocation by the highest in society, in art and in letters, who consider themselves fortunate to get in. This, despite the attractions of the greatest week in the Paris social year and the melodramatic debate going on in the Chamber of Deputies between Interior Minister Clemenceau and Jaures, leader of socialistic Deputies.

In intervals of listening absorbedly to the lawyers the throng at the Dreyfus hearing whispers that Captain Dreyfus and his wife are estranged. Mme. Dreyfus had been in court twice. But she comes and goes without speaking to her husband; without even noticing him. Dreyfus has been as if carved out of marble during this last effort of his friends to clear his reputation.

Many persons have not recognized him in the court room, as he has grown a beard and dresses like a gentleman from the provinces. Now, as throughout every phase of the affair, his cultivated and retiring manners contrast with the self-assertion of his enemies.

There is little doubt, it is thought now, that the verdict of the French Supreme Court will nullify the Rennes Court-martial decision against Dreyfus.

Corpse Breaks Up a Wake.

Fifteen men who were sitting up with the corpse of Mrs. Catharine Gulerale in McKeesport, Pa., Friday evening declared the wake adjourned sine die when the corpse arose from the coffin, walked to the cupboard in the room, looked into it, gazed out the window and then returned to its narrow bed, disposing itself peacefully in the cushioned box. When the strange story was told to the police they entered the house, and found the body of Mrs. Gulerale lying in the coffin. Fifteen excited foreigners gathered around the policemen and insisted the woman had risen from her coffin. A physician was called and he pronounced her dead. Yet those fifteen men insist they saw her alive, and declare they had not been drinking any more than it is the custom at a wake. None of the men could be induced to return to the house. The funeral took place Saturday, and persons who attended were in fear and trembling. They say it presages the worst kind of luck when the dead walk that way. When a ghost walks it's not so bad.

A Miraculous Cure.

The following statement, by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed. 50c and $1.00 at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Students Flirt with a Waitress

Julie's arms are plump and white and rounded daintily. Her sleeve, in the summer's way stopped short in a little frill at her pretty, pinkly dimpled elbow. That is why Julie is no longer enrolled among the waitresses at the exclusive University School at Cleveland, Ohio. That is why, also, two students have been suspended. One is Teddie Palmer, a senior and an athlete, of New York. The other is Douglas Gardner, of Norwalk. Gardner is captain of the football team. Half a dozen other students were up before the facilty at the time Julie packed her little grip and left the school, for, though Julie's reign was brief, it was lively. Instructors saw several of the boys flirting with her at the table. Julie got her discharge papers. A week later a member of the facilty who happened to stroll around the grounds after dark found the dimpled Julie perched on the stone coping, gayly chattering with a half dozen young students. Investigation followed.

You cannot induce a lower animal to et heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

To Save Some Portion of Your Earnings Each Week.

DECIDE on a definite plan and then persist on carrying it into effect. Every man and woman must DECIDE what he or she needs individually. With many the lack of will power is the great curse—procrastination, self-indulgence. With others it is easy good nature, extravagance. With others various habits that mean anything and everything but success. We believe we are giving you the best possible advice when we most earnestly advise you TO SAVE MONEY, for only money saved and accumulated can mean permanent safety for the weak. The progress of men as individuals and as a race has come from MENTAL EFFORTS, from resolutions, from trying to do what they knew they ought to do. Have the strength of character to save. Get your money little by little, but steadily, deny yourself, economize, and as you save deposit it in our SAVINGS DEPARTMENT where it will earn 3 per cent. interest compounded. Modes of Divination.

If a Scottish maiden desired to summon the image of her future husband, she read the third verse, seventeenth chapter, of the book of Job after supper, washed the supper dishes and retired to bed without uttering a single word, placing underneath her pillow the Bible, with a pin thrust through the verse she had read. On Allhallow eve various modes of divination were in vogue. Pennant says that the young women determined the figure and size of their husbands by drawing cabbages blindfold, a custom which lingers still in some parts of Scotland. They also threw nuts into the fire, a practice prevailing also in England, as Gay has described:

Two hazelnuts I threw into the flame,
And to each nut I gave a sweetheart's name.
This with the loudest bounce me sore amazed
That in a flame of brightest color blazed,
As blazed the nut, so may thy passion grow.

Or they took a candle and went alone to a looking glass, eating an apple and combing their hair before it, whereupon the face of the future spouse would be seen in the glass peeping over the foolish girl's shoulder.

Language of Lawrence Jail.

Lieutenant John P. Bradstreet of the Fiftieth Massachusetts was for many years a deputy sheriff and turnkey under High Sheriff Herrick at the Lawrence house of correction. All the newcomers were by him assigned to their proper quarters.

One day upon the arrival of a new squad of inmates there was one who seemed somewhat more "tony" than the rest, and, calling the lieutenant aside, he claimed a little more consideration than the others owing to his previous standing in society.

"I never was in such a situation before," said he, "and I trust you will give me a little different quarters from those other fellows. I am highly educated and can speak seven different languages."

"Seven?" remarked the lieutenant. "That's altogether too many. We don't have but one language here and mighty little o' that."—Boston Herald.

The Ottoman Turks.

The Ottoman Turks lived originally in central Asia, where they were members of a race related to the Mongols, a branch of the Ural-Altai family. Under their first sultan, Othman, who ruled from 1288 to 1326, they founded a realm in Asia Minor, but soon extended it into Europe, entering Armenia. With the capture of Constantinople in 1453 they succeeded to the Byzantine empire, and their rule at its zenith during the sixteenth century extended over the greater part of southeastern Europe and much of western Asia and northern Africa, but they lost Hungary, Roumania, Servia, Greece and practically Bulgaria and Egypt, etc. The Ottoman Turks are Sunnite Mohammedans and regard the sultan, who is the supreme head of the church and recognized as such by all Mohammedans, as representative of former caliphs.

Notice to City Tax Payers.

Collector's Office, June 16, 1906.

Notice is hereby given that the tax-bills for 1906, are now in the hands of the collector. The attention of parties interested is respectfully called to the following extract from the revenue bill of this year:

"Upon all bills paid in full by the 1st day of July, 1906, the collector of taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent., and on all bills paid by the 1st of September, 1906, he shall allow a discount of five per cent, and on all bills not paid by the first day of December, 1906, there shall be assessed and collected a penalty of five per cent upon the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1907, damages at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid."

Tax payers would do well to call and pay at once in order to avoid the rush and crowd usually present on the last days in which the discount is allowed.

Bring a list to make sure you get bills for all your property, as the collector will not be responsible or allow the discount after the time fixed by law.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS!

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 8, 1906.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two Dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such Dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

☞In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

The following is a copy of Section 54 of the license law. "On every dog, regardless of sex, one dollar and fifty cents."
